

Locks of Love

A local company let me pick a charity to donate money to. I picked Locks of Love for two reasons. People with cancer should have hair. Locks of Love provides hair to cancer patients. To Furthermore, Locks of love provides wigs to many people who need them.

As I said, people with cancer should have hair. In my own opinion, life without hair would be heart-breaking. It would be like kids in every direction pointing fingers treating you unfairly. To avoid this, people should have hair.

The other reason is locks of Love is a wonderful charity to want to make wigs for people without hair. As I said, to cut off a persons hair and go through the effort to make wigs for people with cancer is very charitable.

I would pick Locks of Love as the charity I
